How is it significant?

The Carlton Union Hotels Precinct (HO64) is of historical and aesthetic significance.

Why is it significant?

The Carlton Union Hotels Precinct (HO64) is of historical significance (Criterion A). Lygon Street is one of the principal streets of the suburb, and this section at the southern end of Carlton, and on the edge of the CBD, was one of the early parts of the suburb to be developed. The historical mixed use character of the street is typical of development to the original main streets of Carlton, where houses and hotels, and commercial and residential building types, were often co-located. The survival of the two hotel buildings at the northern and southern ends of the precinct, at a relatively short distance apart, is indicative of the historical importance of hotels and the social roles of 'corner pubs' in the suburb. The precinct is also significant for its long and important association with the trade union movement, reflecting the precinct's proximity to Trades Hall on the opposite side of Lygon Street. Union-related businesses, or businesses attractive to the unions, flourished in this part of Lygon Street, including the two hotels frequented by factions of the union movement, with the 'left' favouring the Dover Hotel and the 'right' the Lygon Hotel, later the John Curtin Hotel. This particular history of the street distinguishes the precinct in the Carlton context and in the context of the broader municipality.

The Carlton Union Hotels Precinct (HO64) is also of aesthetic significance (Criterion E). While the precinct overall is not an intact historical streetscape, it comprises significant buildings from different periods which retain a high level of intactness and architectural distinction. These contribute to a diverse streetscape character in the precinct. Buildings of note include the two-storey shop at 9 Lygon Street, constructed to a design by architect George de Lacey Evans in 1892; and notable for its flamboyant facade illustrating the extravagance of Boom period architecture. The two-storey shop at 13-15 Lygon Street was constructed in 1896 to a design by architects as Reed, Smart & Tappin. It is distinguished by its unusual, often curving, ornament to its rendered façade at ground and first floor levels, with the design suggesting the resurgence of interest in Baroque architectural forms that would reach its apogee in the Edwardian Baroque of the 1910s. The John Curtin Hotel, constructed in 1915 to a design by Billing Peck & Kempter, replaced the earlier Lygon Hotel of c. 1859-60. While a competent Arts and Crafts design, the hotel is distinguished by its history including its long association with the trade union and labour movement, emphasised by its renaming as the John Curtin Hotel in c. 1970.
